the cry, and with every accession the spulse in reases in strengths Rome will fall of her own impalee, and Europe now waits for united Italy, under the lead of Garibaldi, to fall upon the Austrian typen in Venetia, and drive aim from his long suffering prey. Here come the political combinations that will cause many threnes to tremble. If Venetia ... ust receive the boon of a "satisfied nationality," why not Hungary and Transylvania, why not the Capirations for German unity, why not Poland and the Moldavians, and why not the Greek and Armenian Christians of Turkey?

Why not? They are all entitled to it, and cooner or later they must receive it. The end of political rule "by the grace of God" is coming to princes as it has come to the Pope. It is not Italy alone that has awakened to the call of national sentiment. Germany teels it, Hungary burns with it, and Kossuth and Kiapks are now in Turin, conferring with the new nationality of Italy. The heterogeneous empire of Austria is to day confronting its fate, the same fate that attended the Roman empire when the world had outgrown its antiquated spirit and forms. The national idea, triumphant in Italy, may soon break out in Hungary, and extend to the thirty-seven incongruous divisions of Germany. Who shall help Austria. then, when Venice and Hungary simultaneous ly rise? This is the political problem that is now being worked out in Europe, and it is full of great changes and strange developements. These will come fast enough, and we have no need to anticipate their possible results. More have already been produced in the past year than any similar period of time in history can

FIRST IN THE FIELD.-With a promptitude which does it great credit, Mozart Hall was the first to endorse the action of the Union Committee on Monday evening. This body of de mocrats is distinguished for its success in de feating, under the banner of Mayor Wood Tammany Hall, the Regency and the republicans combined, in the municipal contest of last fall. The issue was then nationality in opposition to sectionalism and the importance of the victory was felt and acknowledged everywhere. The free soil democracy of rotten Tammany and the thorough republicans were beaten by the nationalists of Mozart Hall. A great impetus was thus given to the cause of Union; and now upon the same issue Mozart Hall boidly and bravely leads the way. The following resolutions were adopted unanimously by its General Committee on Monday even-

Resolved. That the present crisis in our national politics requires, from patriotic principle, sacrifice of personal and party preferences, and the union of all Union men for the sake of the Union.

Resolved, That we, the representatives of the democracy of the city of New York, heartly ratify the action of the Union Committee, and piedge our support to the electoral ticket nominated by that committee, headed by the representative names of Heman J. Redfield and Henry S. Randali

This is in the right spirit, and we call upon all political bodies throughout the State to follow the example set by Mozart Hall, and endorse the Union ticket. A public meeting ought to be held here at once to ratify it, and eimilar meetings ought to be held in every village and hamlet throughout the State. Those who, under any pretence, oppose this ticket must be content to be ranked by the people among the friends of Lincoln, for there seuredly the people will place them. Had the ticket been Douglas only, or Breckinridge only, or Bell only, it would have been the duty of the other two sections to go for it, in order to the defeat of Lincoln. That is the primary object. But as all three parties are represented more or less on the ticket—the shades of difference are of no consequence—it becomes the cacred obligation of every man of these three parties, every conservative man in the Empire State, no matter what may be the complexion of his politics in other respects, to give the ticket all the support in his power. Thus sustained, it will be triumphant, and black repubdicanism will receive its death blow.

Who among the conservative candidates will be President is another question, and defeated, none of them can win the prize. Let that be accomplished, and it is of comparatively small importance who occupies the chair of the White House. The issue is whether an anti-slavery revolutionary party, whose success would break up the Union, shall sway the councils of the nation, or some conservative party-no matter which—shall take the helm for the time being and keep the good old ship right onward upon her course. All other side issues and personal questions and interests of cliques shrink into significance beside this paramount wital question of the day. In the words of the resolution of Mozart Hall, "The present crisis in our national politics requires, from patriotic principle, sacrifices of personal and party preferences, and the union of all Union men for the sake of the Union."

SLANDERS ON THE JUDICIARY-JUDGE RUSSELL AND HIS ASSAILANTS .- Else where will be found a reply, copied from the New York Times, to the charges preferred against Judge Russell by the black republican organs in this city, in connection with the recent prosecutions against the ticket swindlers. It disposes satisfactorily of the assumption that the Judge was influenced by the slightest bias in dealing with those cases. So far as Smethurst was concerned, it is shown that on the trial of that person, some eighteen months ago, he would have escaped conviction but for the strong manner in which he charged the jury against him. Until he summed up the case it was the general impression in Court that they would have brought in a verdict of acquittal. As to the accusation against Ward and Gilbert, there was nothing to support it. Ward was a duly licensed runner, and Gilbert was in his employment as clerk. As the ticket sold was genuine, and the price charged the regular one, the case was wanting in any of the legal grounds on which an indictment could

We give place to this communication, not to defend Judge Russell, whose career is before the public and speaks for Itself, but to show the incredible meanness and disregard for truth which actuate the black republican organs in their attacks upon one of the can organs in their stracks upon one of the most efficient and upright Judges that has ever presided in our city courts. In assailing him with such bitterness and lavishing upon him personalities that no misconduct on his part could justify, they are, however, oversho the mark. They prove to the world that their dislike of him originates in other motives than interest for the honest administration of justice. and they provoke in his favor a reaction which will only render him more obnoxious to them by winning for him fresh evidences of the ap-better not bring his judicial acts too frequently under investigation. They will end by con-vincing the public that so efficient a magistrate cannot be long spared from the bench.

THE TRIUMPHANT MARCH OF THURLOW WEED IN THE INTERIOR.-The republicans of the So cond Assembly district of Onondaga county have, it appears, obeyed orders from head-quarters, and renominated Captain Austin Myers for member of Assembly, without even taking a ballot. It is reported that only two or three delegates could be found to raise their voices against his nomination. The action of the republicans of this district secures to Weed for his operations in the next Legislature another of his aids that figured prominently in that capacity during the last session.

Mr. Myers is one of the members of the last remarkable Legislature who took a decided stand in favor of the peculating lobby that infeeted the legislative halls, and voted to grant them full power to plunder the city of New York of its valuable franchises. He was a member of the long to be remembered Committee on Commerce and Navigation, which never failed to give all the steamboat and ferry mo nopolies all they asked for, whether they came from this locality or that of the lakes. To that committee was referred the Brooklyn ferry question, and Mr. Myers was one of the number who signed the adverse report and recommended that the present rates should be maintained. This report was presented on Monday morning, at the time when a large majority of the members directly interested were absent, and, under the whip and spur, adopted-Mr. Myers voting in the affirmative. The mo tion was afterwards reconsidered, and the mi nority report adopted; but in all its various stages he was true to the interests of the monopoly and his master. We find his name recorded against selling the railroad franchises of this city to the highest bidder; his name is also among the "nays" on Mr. Robinson's motion to recommit the Seventh Avenue bill, with instructions to add another section providing that the Legislature may at any time alter, modify or repeal this act;" likewise upon the motion of Mr. Plumb to reduce the fare to four cents. His name is amongst the long list of yeas that passed the several gridirons and the West Washington Market bill over the Governor's vetoes.

the slate of the lobby in all its particulars, and was reported to have been one of the inside operators. This course seems to please the republicans of the City of Conventions, who have renominated him by acclamation, thus endorsing the corruptions and venality of the last Legislature, and as the district is strongly republican, the only inference to be drawn is that they consider the doings of the flagitious bands at Albany last winter as a part and parcel of the republican creed. It appears, however, from the resolution adopted by the convention, which we publish elsewhere, that they endorse both Governor Morgan and Myers, and consider both rightan evidence that the political faith of the republicans of the "Salt City" has considerable India rubber material in its composition. Whilst the republicans of the Second district endorse a man whose record, as it appears in the official journal of the House, is as black as the blackest, we see that the same party in the First Assembly district of that county have renominated Jeremiah Emerich, whose name is re cerded against the peculators of the last session in every instance. There is, however, one singular fact in connection with the nominations that have thus far been made by the republicans-that is, not one of Weed's leaders during last winter has been rejected. Are we to infer from this that the party endorses the action of the Albany freebooters?

Our readers will perceive that he followed

THE MAR-ALIS OF THE CONTEST .- After the two Democratic Conventions at Charleston and Baltimore were broken up by Sildell, Breckin-Albany Regency on the other, and two tickets were pominated for the Presidency, every one made a speech at Washington, in which he said that there was no regular nomination before the people, and that they might vote for whom they pleased—thus intimating a fusion of all the conservative elements of the country, which has happily been just consummated in this State. Although Mr. Buchanan did not directly recommend fusion upon one electoral ticket, by that name, such was the spirit and the essence of his remarks, and such has been the practical working of the plan his language then foreshadowed. But there have been a number of tricky politicians and newspapers ever since laboring with might and main to defeat every proposition for union and harmony, to keep the party divided, and expose the country to the dangers of a sectional despotism. Foremost among these mar-alls we place the Constitution newspaper at Washington. Ever since the two conventions were broken up, this wretched concern, supposed to be managed by the Honorable Blundering Brown, and inspired by some fussy members of the Cabinet, has been ighting against Douglas and for Breckinridge with all the violence and acerbity which characterize the abolition agitation, thus perpetuating feuds, and throwing every obstacle in the way of that union and harmony for which the people in every quarter of the country were yearning, and which every man with a grain of common sense and patriotism in his composition knew were essential to the safety of the confederacy. This is what the Constitution has been doing, while the people of New York and everywhere else were laboring to beal up the differences, to effect compromises and to unite the whole conservative sentiment upon one electoral ticket, whereby the country might be preserved from the evils of a black republican administration. The people every-where comprehended the broad spirit of that halfdefined suggestion thrown out at Washington after the double nomination of the democratic party. They did so in New York, they did so in the South, and they did so in New England; but the miserable and blunderingly conducted journal, the Constitution, which is supposed to represent the administration, could not under stand the language of the head of the government, which seemed to fall with prophetic inspiration from his lips. The Constitution has been the foremost firebrand in perpetuating discord—the very Eros in this trying crisis-keeping alive partisan quarrels and personal fends, which the good sense of the people atimulated them to set at I in a precarious condition.

probation with which his course is viewed. If rest, and, together with a few stupid factionists they wish to get him out of their way they and in the Senate, helping to counteract the policy better not bring his judicial acts too frequently Mr. Buchanan.

But, despite of every machination and every effort, a bether of stupidity or mischief, we have crushes the political scoundrels of the Albany Regency and Tammany Hall, who broke up the Conventions at Charleston and Baltimore. We have put the under our feet, and compelled them to submit a fusion and to join in a Union electoral ficket to this State, by which we hope to save the country t. om the infliction of the abolition rail splitter from lillnois. Meantime we hold up the Constitution and all the other abettors of dissord as worthy objects of public reprobation.

Washington, Sept. 22, 1880.
The California Land Claimants—The Almaden Quicksilver
Mining Company—Opinion of the Attorney General, do.
The fraudulent claimants of California lands continue to their magnificent schemes. It is computed that these stupendous speculators have covered not less than one hundred and fifty millions of dollars worth of the public lands with their false and fraudulent titles. The exposure and defeat of them in the Supreme Court—for most of them have been already defeated—provoke them exceed-ingly. They are particularly ferocious upon the Attor-ney General, who has omitted no opportunity to give in wrath and money is the New Almaden Quickellver Min ing Company. The value of that mine is variously esti mated at from twelve to twenty millions of dol-lars. Their own books, which they were compelled to exhibit before the California Court, showed a yield of ore worth a million of dollars per annum, all of which is public property if the Attorney General's opinion be cor-rect. The struggle they are making to retain this prince ly estate is desperate and persovering. It is a bad sign for them that they fight shy of the courts, having stayed of the trial in California for three or four years. In the meantime they are sudesvering to try their case in the newspapers. The California papers are filled with the productions of their agents; and on this side of the moun-tains the public has been surprised to find the advertising here were much amused some time ago to see your black republican neighbor, better known as the "little villain," here were much amused some time ago to see your black republican neighbor, better known as the "little villain," jumping Jim Crow so gracefully for the benefit of the quicksliver claimants. The conductor of the benefit of the quicksliver claimants. The conductor of that singularly incorruptible journal acknowledged the justice of the Attorney General's report on this case as soon as he saw it. But after a few weeks' reflection, and it may be some other intervening circumstances, he came out with a most abusive leader of that same report. What happened in the meantime to change his opinion, he has not lod. We only know that it was changed.

Seriously, what can be the meaning of these men having their hack writers stationed at New York, Washington and other places, to write up a judicial case pending in a court on the coast of the Pacific' it really looks as if there was something rotton to be covered up by this process. This is the inference which will be made by those who look no further, and the suspicion will be confirmed in the minds of all who recollect that they made another attempt to change the venue last winter by taking their case before the California Legislative, where they got a series of resolutions passed in their favor. With these resolutions in their hands, they came last winter to Washington, and, through the California delegation in Congrese, neared the President to abandon the proceedings which the recover this valuable proparty from their grapp. The President caimly latenate their instituted against them to recover this valuable proparty from their grapp. The President caimly latenate the first modest request and handed it over to the Attorney.
